FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY

There is no avoiding the fact that the first half of the year has been tough. There have been limited places to hide, with almost all asset classes in the red year-to-date (YTD). Unusually high levels of inflation, slowing economic growth, rising interest rates, Fed policy uncertainty, China's Covid restrictions and Russia's war on Ukraine are all headwinds that have helped drive the markets lower.

Bonds, which are generally seen as a haven for investors when stocks collapse, haven't provided any solace. The anxiety over the central banks' projected rate-increase path has resulted in global bonds selling off significantly with the FTSE WGBI index down 14.8% YTD, with longer dated bonds (10-15 years) significantly underperforming the shorter dated equivalents.

The South African bond market also had a difficult month with FTSE/JSE All Bond Index (ALBI) ending down 3.1%. The ALBI has outperformed its global counterparties on a YTD but remains in the red down 1.9% with longer dated bonds (12+ years) also underperforming the shorter dated equivalents.

From an economic perspective, inflation in South Africa came in at 6.5% in May – the highest level since January 2017 and above the upper limit of the SARB's 3 - 6% target range. Based on the latest inflation print, many expect that the SARB will likely hike rates by 50bps in July.

As with many of our global counterparties, the dilemma remains the ability for central banks to tame inflation without pushing economies into recessions. Unfortunately, only time will tell if their decisions were correct but in the meantime volatility amongst asset classes is likely to continue.

The Manager does not guarantee the capital or the return of a portfolio. Collective Investments are traded at ruling prices and can engage in borrowing and scrip lending, however IFM does not currently engage in scrip lending. A schedule of fees, charges and maximum commissions is available on request. IFM reserves the right to close the portfolio to new investors and reopen certain portfolios from time to time in order to manage them more efficiently in accordance with its mandate. Performance figures quoted for the portfolio are from Morningstar and the Fund Administrator, as at the date of this document for a lump sum investment, using NAV-NAV with income reinvested and do not take any upfront manager's charge into account. Income distributions are declared on the ex-dividend date and may be subject to mandatory withholding taxes. Actual investment performance will differ based on the initial fee charge applicable, the actual investment date, the date of reinvestment and dividend withholding tax. Investments in foreign securities may include additional risks such as potential constraints on liquidity and repatriation of funds, macroeconomic risk, political risk, foreign exchange risk, tax risk, settlement risk as well as potential limitations on the availability of market information. This fund may invest into other Collective Investment Schemes, which may levy their own charges, which could result in a higher fee structure for these portfolios.
